WHITEWASHED.

The Virginia Shout Unit at the St. Louis is a Close Contest.

A new piece of game of Saturday told materially on the gate receipts at Virginia Park yesterday afternoon, but few over a thousand people witnessing the second contest between the home team and St. Louis Club. Had Saturday's been such a game as that of yesterday double the number would have been attracted to the contest. The crowd was made up more of 10 in favor of the visitors. Both clubs played almost perfectly, only one fielding made by Powell in third inning when, Gleason being caught between first and second base, he failed to catch the ball. This was the first error committed by Gleason to get back on first. This error cost the game, as Gleason subsequently made second and was brought home by Nichols' safe hit, and scoring the run made. There was no specially brilliant playing throughout the game. The victors only succeeded in getting on to Morgan for five centering singles, which yielded nothing, while Foutz kept the home team down to three. In the ninth inning it looked as though the Virgians would either tie or win the game, when, after two more are out, Nash got to first on balls and was advanced by Powell's hit. Larkin then made an easy hit along the inner left field fence, on which Nash came down, but Latham kept the ball and threw it to first and the umpire called Larkin out, when, in the opinion of many who saw the play, he not counted. The noticeable feature on the game was Larkin's fine work on second base. He had had a chance to "scoop" very difficult, and accepted them all. The following is the score:

Meegan, of the Virginia Club, formerly a base-runner while in position to deliver the ball by wiggling his foot. The runner, however, did not deliver the ball to the bases. (The runner didn't die there yesterday.)

Boys a Toledo power of the Virginia Club. He can present an especially fine appearance upon the field, but if they do look like lay-makers, their play is such as to put them in the first rank of base-balls. Everybody was agreeable surprised.

The Dime Museum.

The initial performance of Barton & Logan's Amusement Company took place at Morant Hall last night in the presence of a good audience.

The entertainment lasted two hours and was very satisfactory, some of the scenes being amusing and entertaining, and bringing out applause.

The entertainment will be repeated this afternoon and to-night.

Rentz-Santley Combination.

The audience at the theatre last night to see the Rentz-Santley Combination was very thin in the main auditorium and was in the upper tiers of the building. It was numery and acting was concerned, but no ladies were present. Miss Rudolph in the costume Robert Le Diable displayed the most brilliant and varied vocal and instrumental trombone duets were very good, especially the latter. There were a number of male actors on the stage, and the Ethiopian imitators were employed. The performance will be repeated Saturday.
